Dear Ed,

I wish to thank you as Chairman of the Fine Arts Commission for your excellent and tasteful improvements to the daily world in which all of us work.

Since your taking over that job, there has been an extraordinary improvement in the exhibitions which provide some variety to the life of us here and, despite the budgetary limitations, a marked betterment of the environment of the Central Intelligence Agency. It proves the old adage -- if you want something well done, give it to someone who is already busy.

Many thanks,

Sincerely,

W. E. Colby
Director
